Benefits

Today's PC's are now all equipped with multimedia functions from DVD to TV tuner cards and surround systems. However, most of them still stay somewhere in the study and cannot perform all the "built in magic" unless you sit in front of them using your mouse.

To make your PC as comfortable to use as your stereo system all that is missing is a PC remote ! Access all your downloaded audio & video files with a simple key press. The integrated Showshifter software allows you to organise all "multimedia" files on your PC. Compatible with all major player formats, your PC is now easily controlled from your couch - just like you are used to with your TV. All this up to 30 meters away, even through walls !

On top of that, all the legendary comfort from an easy to use and set up universal remote.

But "home application" is just one advantage. With the integrated mouse pad you can now do your Power Point presentation or other applications without being "glued" to the PC. You can even control your web browser and access your favourite web pages, too !
